

WINGS

By Mallory P.

I can't look up at the sky
without thinking of your eyes.
Even when it's raining I feel like you're crying.
And I can't feel the sun on my face without thinking of your smile,
and how it used to light up my days.
You always wanted to know
How it felt to fly.
Now I guess you do
because you have a pair of wings.
You always said to me
what if heaven is real?
Now I guess you know if it is.
You can fly, you can soar through the sky!
And I hope you're watchin' over me
on your wings.
Sometimes I wonder if the angels fell down,
Would you be with them?
Would you come back to see me?
'Cause I can't do anything I used to,
because everything I used to do
I did with you
You always wanted to know
how it felt to fly.
Now I guess you do
because you have a pair of wings.
You always said to me,
what if heaven is real?
Now I guess you know if it is.
You can fly, you can soar through the
sky!
And I hope you're watching over me
on your wings.
So hey old friend, can I borrow a pair
of wings,
I'll just visit for the day.
I'll take all my friends,
I could introduce them to my late Aunt Jennifer
but you might have already met her,
isn't she sweet?

I wanna see you again, and all the others
I wanna see the angels they've become.
I'm missin' them, every single one!
I know that
You always wanted to know
how it felt to fly.
Now I guess you do
Because you have a pair of wings.
You always said to me,
what if heaven is real?
Now I guess you know if it is.
You can fly, you can soar through the
sky!
And I hope you're watching over me,
on your wings.
I can't look up at the sky
without thinking of your eyes.

ONE SNOWY DAY

By Kyla N.

Crunch goes the snow under the big brown bear. He doesn't hear me because he is listening to the song of the wind. The rabbit sits, watches closely, and shivers like me, because we are cold. The spider's web is gone except one string. It seems to have wrapped around a snowflake like a blanket for me. The fish are gone and so are the geese so I guess I will go too. The snowflake waves to me as if saying, "Good-bye, travel safely."

QUICK WRITE By Seth R.

I was riding on an elevator when I was goofing off. Then it stopped. Then I got stuck. I was bored when I got my magic marker and said,
"Oooohhh, that's where I put it!" Then I made myself some wings, which I really wanted when I was first born.
Then I made a really big hole and went back home.

THE SNOWMONSTER!!!

By Kaitlin O.

There once were four best friends. They were always mean to each other, but that is how they knew they were the best of friends. Their names were Swizel, Blondie, Megan, and Lil' Rae. One day they were sitting in Swizel's basement with all of their cows when they heard a scream. It wasn't any ordinary scream; it was a scream of terror. They all walked upstairs slowly to see what it was. They opened the front door very carefully, and it was only a sheep. The sheep had a little stereo and it was playing, "I Knew You Were Trouble When You Walked In" by Taylor Swift.

"I knew you were trouble when you walked in!" Blondie started singing. When she got to the part where Taylor Swift sings, "oh" they all jumped and started laughing, because the sheep screamed, "AHHHH!" They could not stop laughing, and then the sheep got mad. He started running towards them screaming, "AHHHH!" They ran into the house laughing their heads off. Then, all of a sudden, the sheep was gone; they had no idea what had taken him.

A snowmonster jumped out of nowhere, singing, "I'm the snowmonster and I'm glad to meet you!" They all thought the snowmonster was just a fairy tale, but no, he was real. They took off running into the house because the snowmonster didn't just save people; he would also eat them and take their money. When they all got into the house, they slammed the door behind them and locked it shut, but the snowmonster still got inside. "I'm the snowmonster and..." They all ran into Swizel's basement.

"Wait, can we stop running? I am tired, asked Lil' Rae

You can; I'm not," said Blondie.

I am going to stop. I'll go out and see what he wants!" said Swizel.

I will go too!" said Megan.

Swizel and Megan were mansion burners. They were like twins because they were so much alike, except that Blondie and Swizel were actually twins. Lil' Rae was their little sister and Megan was their close cousin but they all felt like sisters.

When Megan and Swizel went out to see what he wanted, they heard him singing, " I'm the snowmonster and I'm glad to meet you. When the snow comes down I come out to hug you. I've got friends from the Arctic down to Kalamazoo, and I will use your money to buy PANCAKES!"

Guys, come up here. He is a nice one; all he wants is a hug and our money to buy PANCAKES!" Megan said.

"OK, are you sure?" asked Blondie.

"Yes, wait, wait, NO! Stay down there; he is eating Megan and me! AHHHH!" said Swizel.

"Don't lie!" said Lil' Rae.

"We aren't!" yelled Megan.

"I will save you," Lil' Rae and Blondie said at the same time.

"No, I will save them." said Blondie.

"No I will!" said Lil'Rae.

"Guys, we are just joking," said Megan.

"Eh, just let them fight over who gets to save us," said Swizel.

"Yea, true, said Megan.

When the two of them came up, they saw that the snowmonster was just giving them a hug.
